Figure 1-3. The aquifer system is thinner where parts of the underlying crystalline-rock surface have been upwarped and thicker where the crystalline rocks have been down-warped. The line of the hydrogeologic section is shown in figure 1-1.