

The ClimateMusic Project

What do you want the future to sound like?
Listen. Then Act.

Friday, April 28, 2017

Shows at 6:30PM and 8:15PM

Doors open at 6PM and 8PM.

Noh Space

2840 Mariposa Street

San Francisco

in collaboration with

KINETECH ARTS

AN EVENING OF MUSIC & MOTION

MUSIC: CLIMATE

Climate, an original composition by Erik Ian Walker. Through this unique science/arts collaboration, we tell the story of how the climate has changed in the last 200 years, what we can expect in the future, and how we can all help address the greatest challenge facing humanity.

Erik Ian Walker, Composition and keyboards; Thomas Dimuzio, synth and live sampling; Michele Walther, violin; Scott Brazieal, keyboards; Bill Noertker, bass guitar; and live mixing by Angela Lee.

DANCE: VERTIGO

"In Vertigo, we embody the memory of vivid colors, the coldness of industrialization, and engage in intense physicality that drives our bodies to fight for a promising future."

Dance: Choreography, Daiane Lopes da Silva; Dancers, Maria Sotnikova and Daiane Lopes da Silva; Original music by Erik Ian Walker

These shows WILL sell out, so we recommend purchasing your tickets early via the link below:

TICKETS

Questions? 415-753-5515

Special thanks to our friends at Kineviz (www.kineviz.com) and FXPAL (www.fxpal.com) for their substantial contributions to the visual content of the performances.

WE HOPE TO SEE YOU THERE!